

How iSportsman works:

1. All people wishing to hunt, fish, scout, or be an observer of someone hunting, fishing, or scouting are required to create a user profile, obtain appropriate permits, and check in and out of areas using the iSportsman system.
2. Cyclists wishing to ride the Range Area Cycling Loop must also register and obtain a cycling permit. Cyclists riding this loop must check in and check out in iSportsman, versus signing in/out at Range Operations. See Cycling under Activities for additional information.
3. The iSportsman website contains all the information you need to enjoy the outdoor opportunities at Fort Jackson.
4. Regulations, Maps, Permit Sales, Open and Closed Areas, Reservations for Tomorrow's Hunting, Checking In and Out of Areas, Harvest Totals, and Pictures are just some of the features that are offered in this iSportsman website.
5. All permit sales will be purchased by credit card/debit card through the iSportsman website.
6. Checking into and out of areas can be done by website (computer or smartphone) or by calling into iSportsman by phone.
7. When a permit is purchased, the user will also print their Fort Jackson iSportsman parking pass (Vehicle Control Form) to be displayed in the window of your parked vehicle. Game wardens, police, range control, and wildlife biologist staff will be able to tell what area everyone is checked in to real-time.
8. Users are to check in to their areas by computer, smart phone, tablet, laptop, or telephone, and proceed directly to that area. Then users are to check out of their area in the iSportsman system when finished and back in their vehicle, or when they depart Fort Jackson.

9. If an iSportsman user fails to Check out of their assigned area by the published return time, the iSportsman system will automatically place that user on administrative hold. The user will be unable to access the iSportsman system until the matter is resolved.
