

How to check in, check out,
and make reservations for Turkey hunting
in the Fort Jackson
iSportsman system

The Homepage

The Check in process starts on the homepage. In order to start the process, you will select either the “My Account” tab, which will prompt you to enter your username and password, or the “Check-In/Out” tab, which will prompt you to enter your username and either your password or four digit pin. It is imperative that hunters read the information posted on the homepage before beginning the check in process. This will be the primary way that important news and information will be shared with hunters.

ATTENTION HUNTERS! Read and Acknowledge! I acknowledge that I am required by Fort Jackson reg. 28-4 to properly sign out no later than the expected time. Failure to do so on my part will subject my account to an Administrative hold. Regardless of harvest please click "yes" upon check out in order to fill out the turkey hunting participation form. The harvest form must be filled out upon each checkout regardless of success! Failure to complete the survey may result in disciplinary action. Harvest information will be collected at the big game checkstation.

Once Turkey Hunting has been selected, you will see this Acknowledgement, and you must select “I Accept” in order to move forward with the check in. By clicking on the “I Accept” button, you are stating that you have read and understand everything in the acknowledgment and are accountable for following all of the rules and processes stated within.

If an area is already occupied, it will show up as red and cannot be selected. Select the area that you wish to check in to, and the system will take you to the next screen.

NOTE: Not all alpha-numeric areas may be open to hunting within a particular Turkey Hunt Area. It is up to the hunter to reference the Area Closure Map (under the Maps Tab) to determine which alpha-numeric areas are open within the turkey area you check in to. An alternate reference is the list of open areas found under the Areas tab of the home page.

This is an example of the Area Closure Map screen. Everything in red is closed Reservations begin at 1215 the day prior. If you want to make a reservation for the next day's hunt, select the "Make Reservation" tab from the Checkin / Checkout screen shown above. NOTE: There is an issue with the system that prevents you from checking in to an area for current day afternoon hunting if you have made a reservation for the following day. This means that if you want to hunt in the afternoon of the current day and make a reservation for the next day, check in to an area first and then make your next day's reservation afterwards. Otherwise, you will have to cancel the reservation, check in, then remake the reservation. If you are already checked in and make a reservation this would only affect you if you check out of your area and try to check into a new one.

After you have selected “Make Reservation” you will arrive at this screen. Select Hunting.
